Severing the Shackles

To rise above the hardship of this world
Is to transcend that which keeps one
Bound to a mindset of limitation and
Corrosive beliefs: without a genuine
Effort to sever the shackles that tether
One to a life of unrealized potential;
Pent up energy will find other ways to
Manifest: unless it's a positive outlet,
It’s imprint upon the fabric of reality will Leave a negative impression: therefore,
Intention of thought is crucial: that
Which emerges from the focused effort
Of imagination; embodying the various
Qualities one resonates with on a
Personal level, regardless of society’s
Labels that only serve to hinder growth.
